Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Labour, Social Reform and Democracy, Vol. 1 Only those who have never suffered could give expression to such nonsense, both from a moral and a scientific point of view. Suffering never makes man better, never elevates or ennobles man. If it were so, then the miserable sufferers, being the best and noblest, ought to rule, and the favourites of Fortune obey; slaves ought to rule and masters obey. Besides, could not an all-powerful God make us good without compelling us to go through the ordeal of suffering? Is it not a contradiction of His omnipotence? But more perplexing still is the question of the inequality of suffering. When we see the innocent suffer and the wicked triumph and prosper, we must logically conclude that either our conceptions of good and evil differ from those of a Divine Power, a ruler of the Universe - and then all religion and morality are empty words - or that Divine justice and goodness are a myth. The goodness of God is really irreconcilable with the cruelty and injustice of...
